Phovidence, July 24.—The announcement is made that there will be no more running races at Narragansett. Pior, J. M. Croaby of Boston had a lease of the track and held several meetings. The decision was reached because of the refusal of the Jockey Club to grant a license.

Havenshil, July 24.—Mart Demarest, the well-known reliamant, has secured a lease of the Kenosea trotting park in this city. The arrangements for the deal were completed to-day. Jemarest announces that during the rest of the season he will conduct circuit meets at the track.

Dernort, July 24.—The rain which interfered with the harness racing at Grosse Pointe yester day continued during the night and this morning, and to day's programme was postponed until tomorrow. If the track is in condition the racing will begin in the murning, so that all the events can be decided.

Willie Park, Jr., to Play To-day and Other Matches Slated.

New York golfers will meet for the first time since the championship to-day at the St. Andrew's Golf Club, when the fourth monthly handicap for the class A and B men will be played. The events are separate, with three prizes for each class. The handicap division is over and under thirteen, and each class will play eighteen holds. James Swan, who served so acceptably as the assistant Secretary during the championships, has arranged the handicaps for to-day's event.

A bogey competition, in which both the men and women will engage, will be played at the New Brunswick Golf Club.

Willie Park, Jr., will give an exhibition of his skill in a foursome with the amateurs of the Morris County Golf Club. He has not visited these links since last season, when he won there from Willie Dunn, in the second game of the $6000 match, and, later in the season, played an exhibition match with Will Norton of Lakewood. Should Park have arrived in time for the open championship he would have entered by an agreement with Willie Wier, the greensheeper, as the representative of the Morris County Golf Club. A large attendance is expected from the near-by golf clubs.

At the Morristown Field Club there will be a match between teams of the Haitusvol Golf Club and the home club. The Baltusvol players will be Hardwicke, Campbell, Morgan, John and T. H. Powers Farr, and Wlimer. The home team will be made up of Brinley, Duyckinck, Fellowes, Grandiss, Sutphen, and Woodward.

At Ardsley Casino there will be informal competitions, and the same report may be made regarding the Seabright Golf Club. Games in the running competitions for the July cups will be played on a number of links. At the faraway Essex County Club, at Manchester-by-the-Sea, an interesting mixed foursome, at medai play, eighteen holes, open to the members and their guests, will be decided. Hovey and Wrenn Win Their Matches in Boston, July 24.—Hovey and Wrenn both won their matches here to-day in the Longwood tennis tournament, and they will meet to-mor-row afternoon in the final round for the big Longwood challenge bowl. Hovey's play im-proved materially, and he outclassed Budlong at every point. During the first two sets the Providence expert did not get a single game, and in the third only made the score close because the heavy balls bothered the champion. It drizzled part of the afternoon, and the conditions were not favorable for fast tennis. Hovey, however, came up to the net repeatedly on deep drives off the ground, and killed ball after ball drives off the ground, and killed ball after ball by sharp volleys as Budlong tried to pass him at the net. Wrenn showed decided superiority over Stevens, though it cannot be said that he outclassed him as Hovey did Budlong.

Wrenn stuck to fast tennis, however, and was not forced to the lobbing tactics which he used so successfully against Stevens at Orange last month. He took the first and third sets easily, though in the second Stevens staved off defeat through a long deuce set. Betting this afternoon is at evens on the final, though few men can be found to back Hovey without odds. A great final match between the champion and ex-champion is looked for to-morrow, and the result is expected to show how good are Wrenn's chances to capture the championship from Hovey. In the handicap only four players are left, and Talmare will meet Forbes in the semifinal round, while Hooker will play Ware for a place in the finals. Summary:

RACING AT THE BEACH. KEENE AND BELMONT COLTS RUN GAME IN A DRIVING FINISH.

Blemton Stable's 30-to-1 Outsider Tarante Besten a Read by Regulator-Remp Be-feats Both Successful and Nina Louise-Irish Reel Fast for Five Furiougs. Threatening weather again interfered with Beach track, and the attendance was lighter than on either of the preceding days. A new starting machine was used for the first time on any track in the fourth and fifth races. It worked admirably, Starter Flynn dropping the flag without delay and to good starts in each Connoisseur's clever victory in the first race opened the ball rather tamely. While he was conceding about forty pounds to some of the light weights, the players backed him with confidence at even money against the field and finally at 4 to 5. Lewis was content to lie back in the ruck with the favorite for half a mile or more, while Article and Florena Hubbard set the pace. Rounding the far turn Lewis made his ride for the front, and the race was when Connoisseur went through the field and landed in the lead at the head of the stretch. The only contest was between Manchester and Crimes for the place, the former winning by a scant half length.

Several very fair two-year-olds started in the second race at five furlongs, and their finish was about the best of the meeting thus far. Successful went to the post a favorite at 2 to 1. Nina Louise, Break o' Day, and Remp were at Successful went to the post a favorite at 2 to 1. Nina Louise, Break o' Day, and Remp were at fives, and the rest at long odds. Nina Louise and Set Fast disputed the lead with the favorite throughout the first half mile, but Successful gained a slight advantage in making the turn to the homestretch. Hirsch keeping her close to the rail, while Nina Louise ran rather wide. Fifty yards from the flaish it looked as though Successful would land the money by a small margin. Remp, however, came up very fast in the last furiong and managed to win on the post by a short neck.

The third race, for three-year-olds that had never won a race, brought out a very common lot and the struggle was a good deal of a farce. Trillette went to the post a favorite, and jumping at once to the front made a runsway race of it. Eliza Belle as easily ran into second place.

The fast filly Irish Reel, running for the first time in the colors of her new owners, Charles Fleischmann & Son, went to the post a prohibitive favorite in the fourth race. Going to the front in the first furiong the daughter of Billy Lakeland's old Brighton Beach favorite Exile showed the way to the fielders from start to finish, winning easily by an open length from Heilgion, who easily defeated Right Royal for the place. The five furlongs were covered in 1:0284.

Burlesque went to the post a strong favorite in the first race. Aithough Simms had the mount, the brown colt was never prominent. Sleepy Belle collapsed suddenly after showing the way almost to the homestretch, and Hirsch, making another close ride at the turn with Doomful, had a length the best of it when straightened out for the race home, Regulator and Taranto, the Keene and Belmont coits, running next in order under a head-to-head drive. York Athletic Club recently held a very successful contest of this character, and similar events are being arranged by the leading clubs. A committee of the Metropolitan Association of Cycling Clubs met resterday and selected a course for their hill-coasting race to be held on Aug. 15. R G. Betts, one of the committee, said to The Sun reporter yesterday:

"By common consent, the running qualities of a bicycle are judged by the distance which it will coast. Many manufacturers have aided the impression by giving out such statements and offering to back them up with coid cash, but nothing has ever come of them. The average rider believes, of course, that the heavier the man and the wheel the further they will coast, although this was proven fallacious by the recent coasting matches held at Mamaroneck and at Buffalo, both of which were won by comparatively light men. Although the statistics of these events would have proved of great interest and value, no records were kept by the promoters, and accordingly, comparisons are not possible. The committee in charge of the coasting contest of the Metropolitan Association of Cycling Clubs, to be held on Aug. 15, promise, however, to properly tabulate such matters as weights and gears, and an interesting contribution to the fund of Sycling information should result, the events being open to all and not limited to members or a chosen few, as were the two contests referred to. The course decided upon vesterday is in Cedar Grove, N. J., and calculated to afford a fair alvaround test. The hill is situated in the few, as were the two contests referred to. The course decided upon yesterday is in Cedar Grove, N. J., and calculated to afford a fair alrearound test. The hill is situated in the Orange Mountains, just back of Upper Montciair. The hill forms part of the Pompton turnpike, and is about 4,000 feet, or nearly a mile, long. It is hard, smooth, safe, and accessible, and yet out of the way. The brow of it is slightly more than a mile from Upper Montciair, and the bottom near the Cedar Grove station of the New York and Greenwood Lake Railroad."

The mileage records of the members of the

the international race has no foundation in fact. The Vencedor not only expects to sail in the results here to morrow, but also expects to race at Cleveland on Aug. 18. Her ammagers are anxious to give to her all the actual racing work possible before she meets the Canadian defender.

Hecause the managers of the Vencedor have returned to allow her to be measured it is quite generally supposed she will not be allowed to start in the race to-morrow. There has been nothing more than a formal request for challenge measurements, and the reply was that she be allowed to go in at the Siren's measurements, subject to actual measurement by the club's official measurement and measurement. As the managers of the Vencedor wish, for obvious reasons, to keep her exact lines from being made public at present, they would have an option, in case of a close race, to be measured or forfelt.
